

JUDGE ROY SCREAM

Alternative Rock/Shoegaze - North Texas

Judge Roy Scream is an alternative rock band from North Texas fronted by Marshall Stubbs.

A recent graduate of the University of North Texas, Stubbs has been creating music since 2019 when he released his first album under a different alias. After graduating high school, Stubbs began writing and producing Judge Roy Scream's long anticipated debut album.

Drawing heavily from post-punk, shoegaze, psychedelic rock, and doom metal, 'Their Enchanted Majesties' is a fully independent 8 song album sitting right at 30 minutes, perfect for your morning commute. The album draws from familiar musical styles, while also re-introducing them as future focused and boundary pushing, aligning with Stubbs' passion for rock music, musical innovation and genre blending.

Judge Roy Scream just got back from playing their run of Texas shows promoting the newly released album. They will be playing consistently in DFW while they work on creating music videos, merchandise, and other promotional materials.
